▣ Advantages

- Easy to Copy
- Easy to Move
- Easy to Change

▣ Disadvantages

- Inaccurate
- Requires learning
- Requires digitisation

• Analogue to Digital

- Take measurement
- Quantise
- Encode

▣ Challenges

- Who has ownership?
- Who has control?
- Who has access?

What is intellectual property?

- Intellectual property (IP) refers to creations of the mind, such as inventions; literary and artistic works; designs; and symbols, names and images used in commerce.
- Protected by
 - Patents
 - Trademarks
 - Copyright

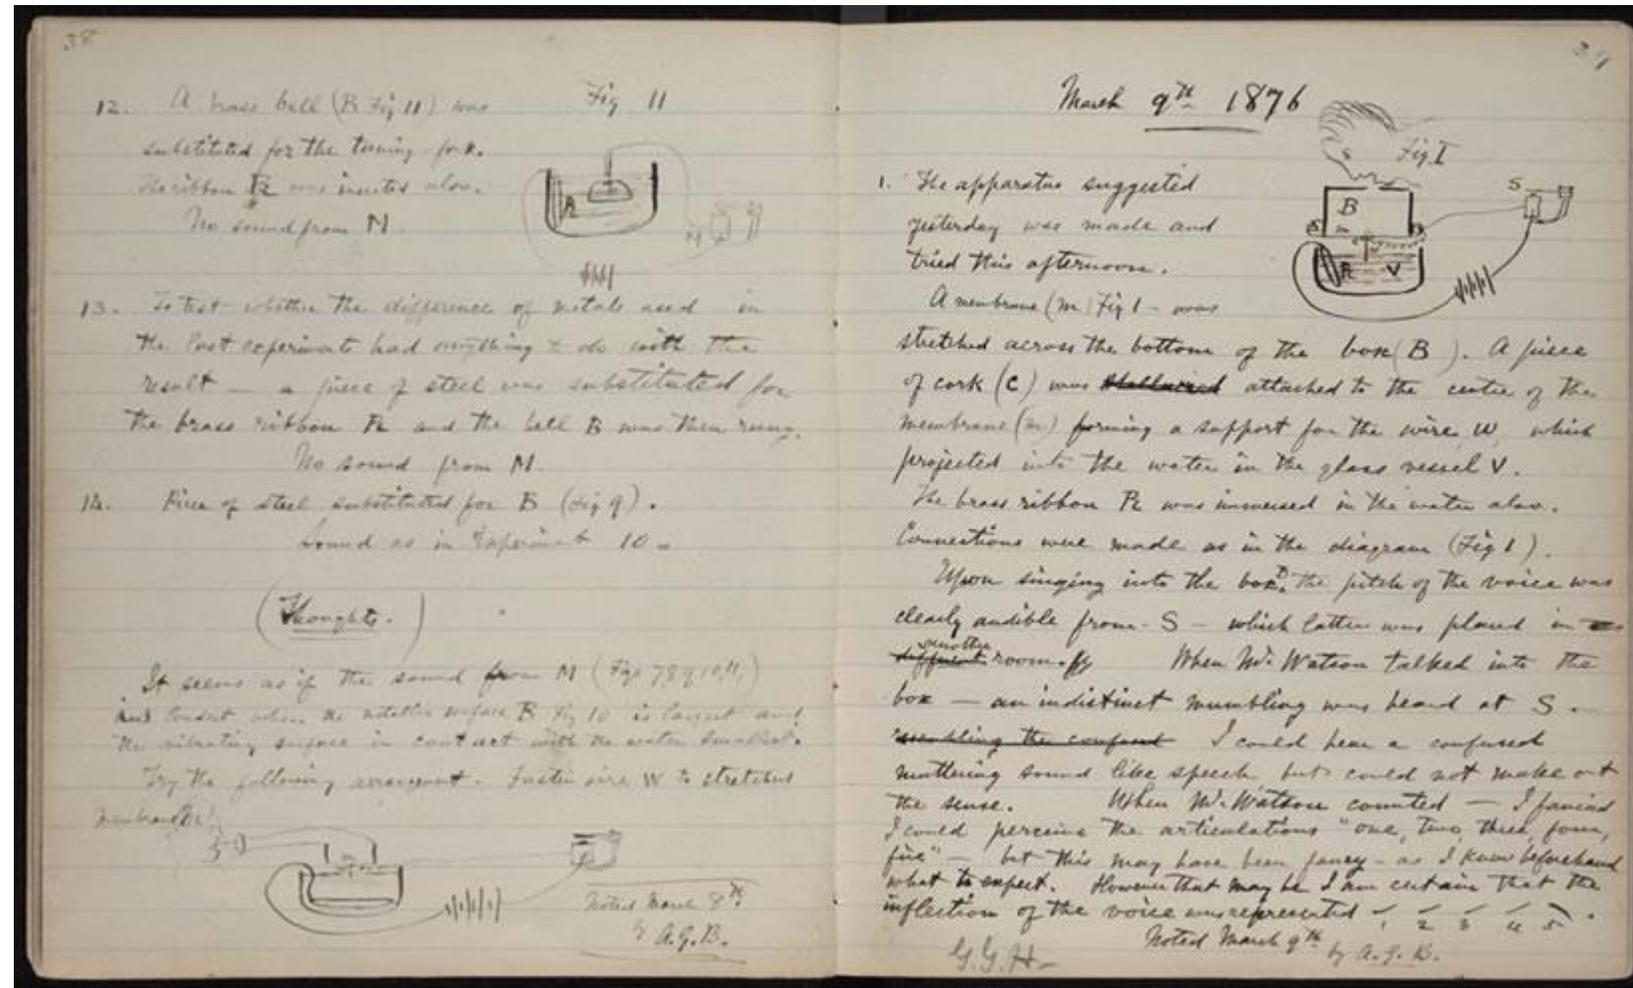

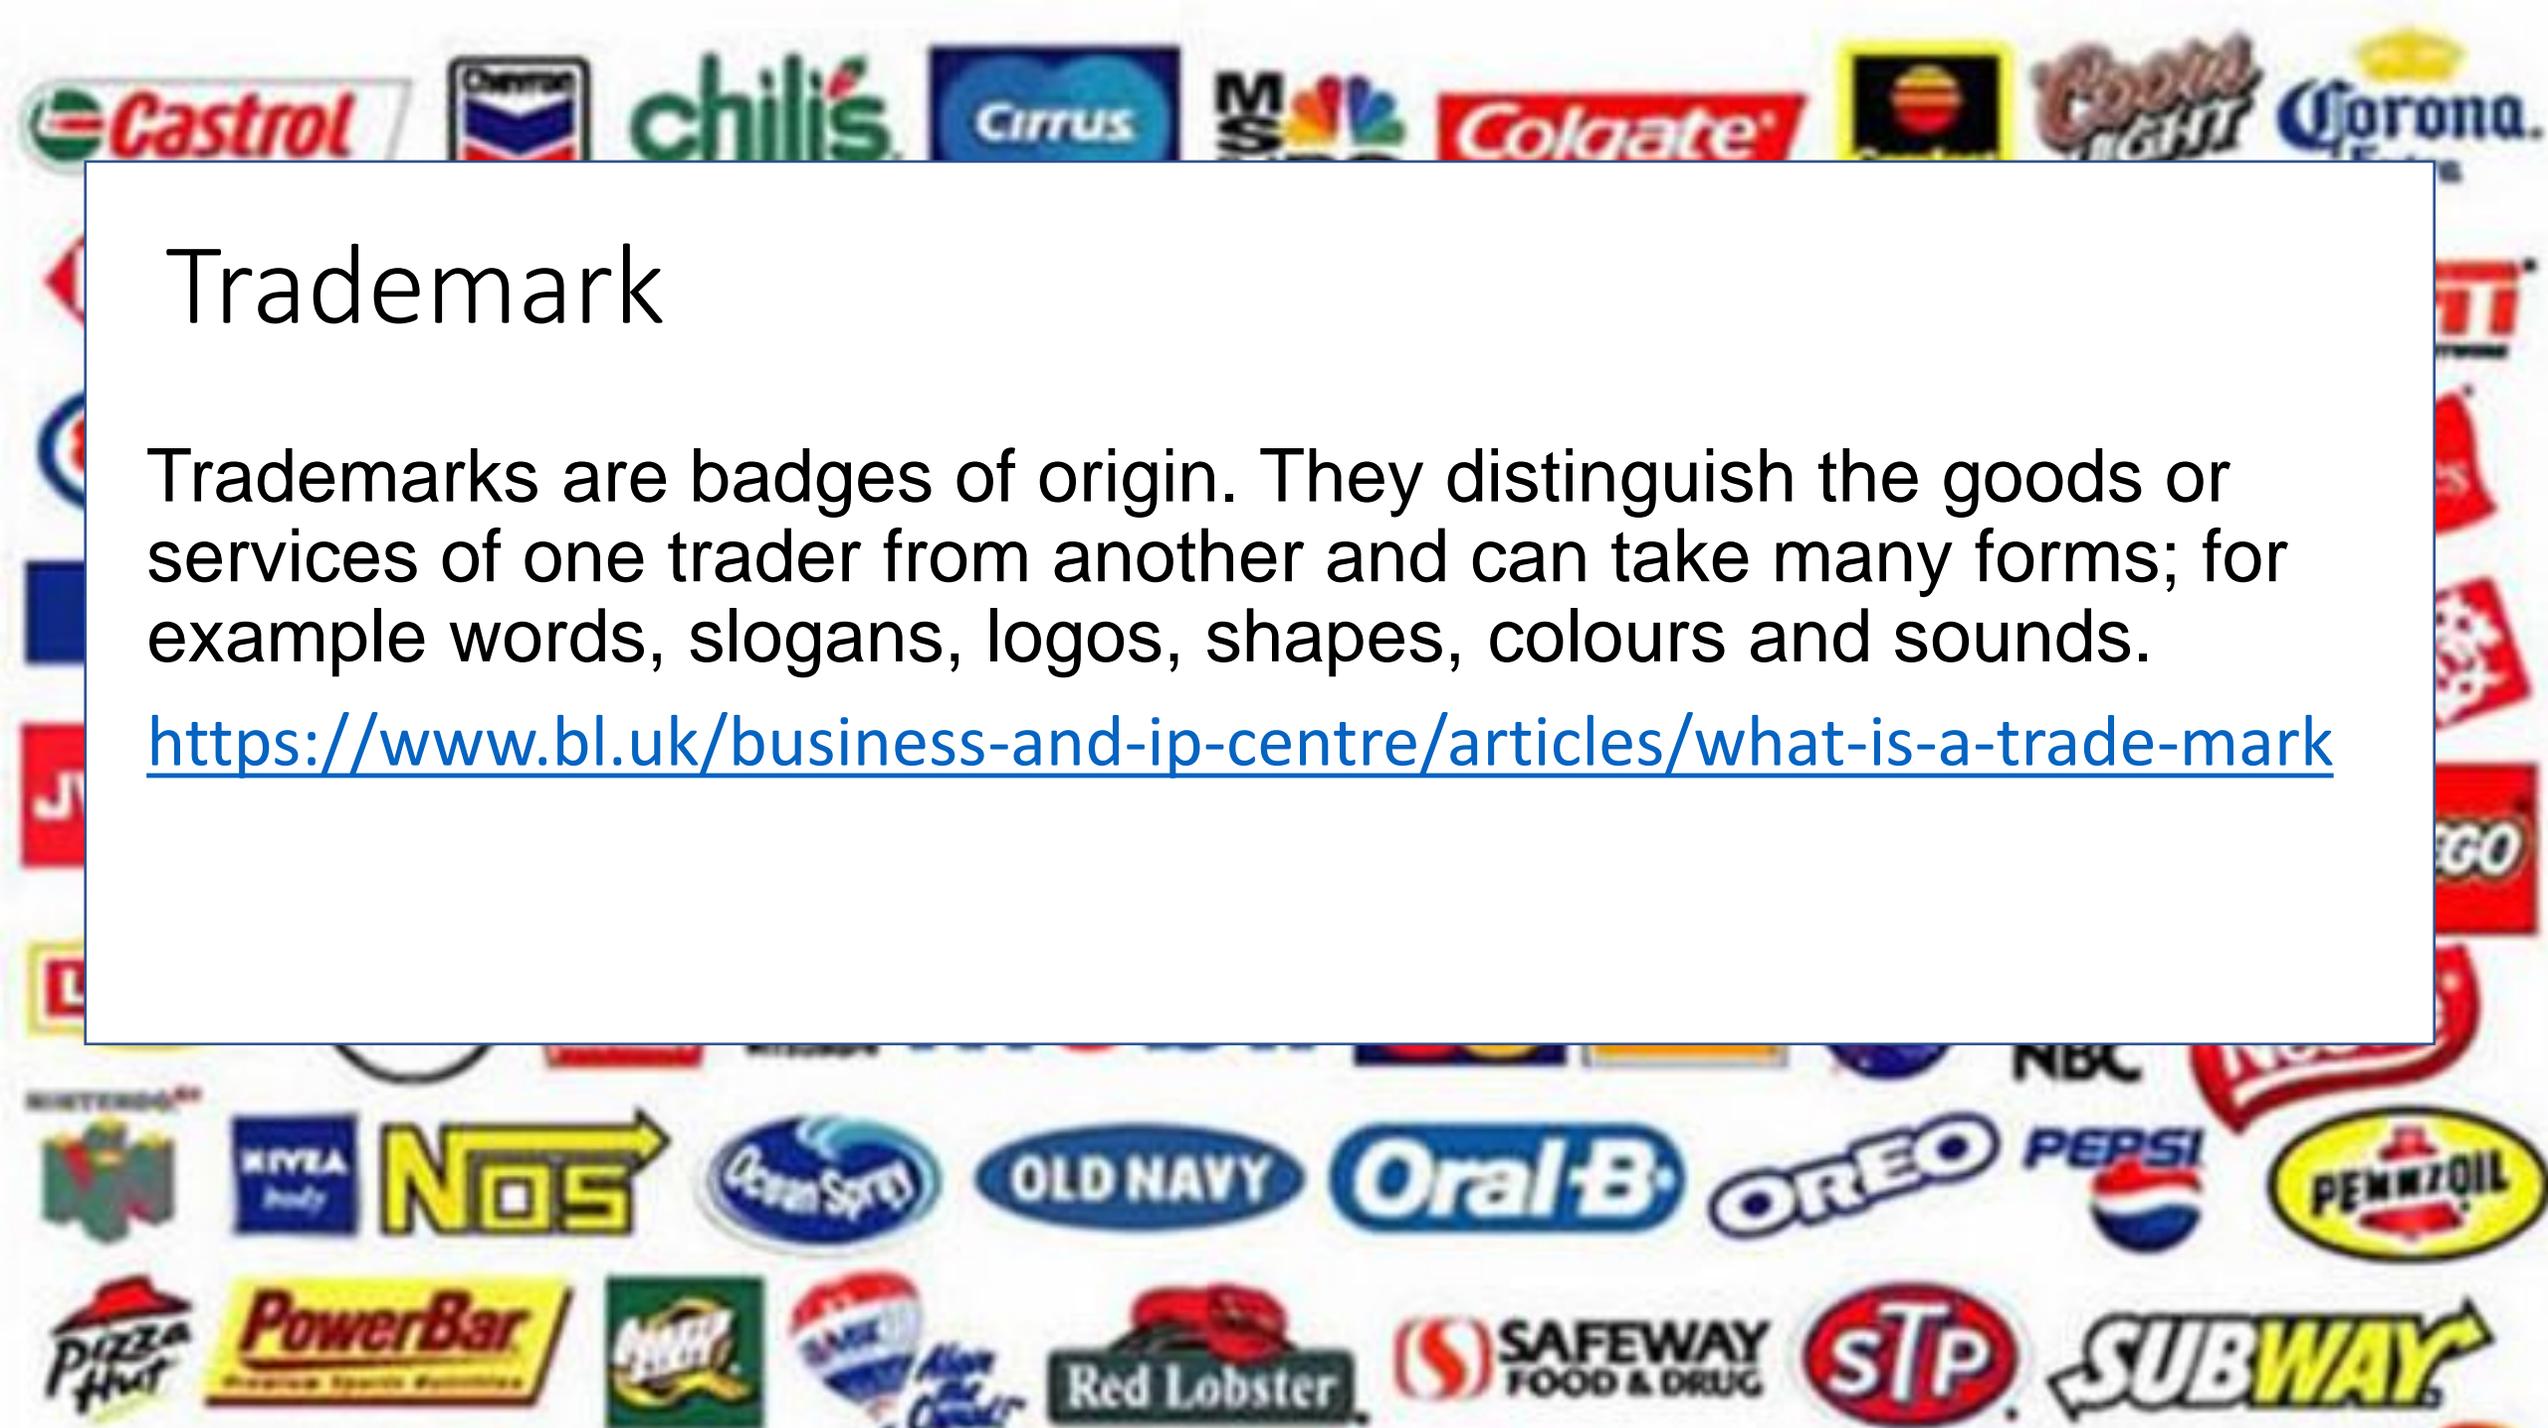

<https://www.wipo.int/portal/en/index.html>

https://www.wipo.int/pressroom/en/articles/2020/article_0010.html

Patent

A patent for an invention is granted by government to the inventor, giving the inventor the right to stop others, for a limited period, from making, using or selling the invention without their permission.

Trademark

Trademarks are badges of origin. They distinguish the goods or services of one trader from another and can take many forms; for example words, slogans, logos, shapes, colours and sounds.

Copyright

NOUN

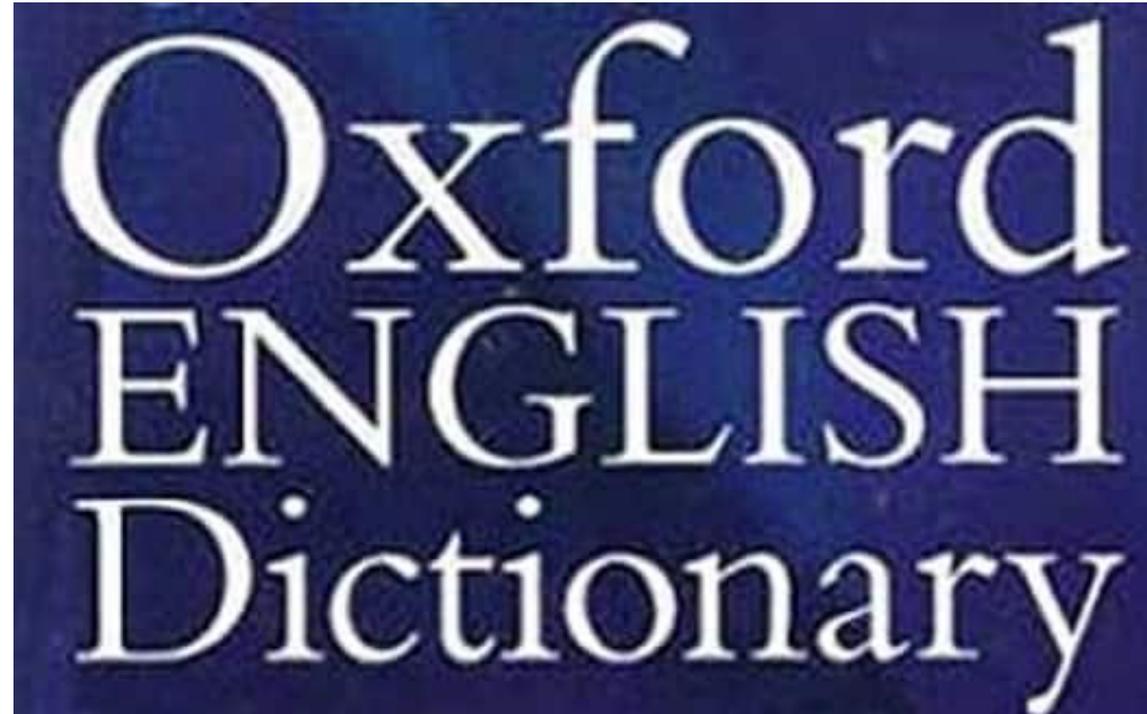

“the exclusive and assignable legal right, given to the originator for a fixed number of years, to print, publish, perform, film, or record literary, artistic, or musical material.”

“he issued a writ for breach of copyright”

“making an unauthorized copy would infringe copyright”

“works whose copyrights had lapsed”

What does Copyright apply to?

: “The expression ‘literary and artistic works’ shall include every production in the literary, scientific and artistic domain, whatever may be the mode or form of its expression.” Berne Convention

- books, pamphlets and other writings;
- lectures, addresses, sermons;
- dramatic or dramatico-musical works;
- choreographic works and entertainments in dumb show;
- musical compositions with or without words;
- cinematographic works
- works of drawing, painting, architecture, sculpture, engraving and lithography;
- photographic works to which are assimilated works expressed by a process analogous to photography;
- works of applied art;
- illustrations, maps, plans, sketches and three-dimensional works relative to geography, topography, architecture or science;
- “translations, adaptations, arrangements of music and other alterations of a literary or artistic work,” which “shall be protected as original works without prejudice to the copyright in the original work”;
- “collections of literary or artistic works such as encyclopedias and anthologies which, by reason of the selection and arrangement of their contents, constitute intellectual creations”

Ownership and Transfer of Copyright

The owner of copyright in a work is generally, at least in the first instance, the creator of a work

Registration is not required ie the rights accrue automatically

They may accrue to an organization e.g. University if an agreement is in place

- Transfer of economic rights
 - Assignment
 - Licensing
 - Relinquishment
- Moral Rights

Berne Convention 1886

The Berne Convention formally mandated several aspects of modern copyright law; it introduced the concept that a copyright exists the moment a work is "fixed", rather than requiring registration. It also enforces a requirement that countries recognize copyrights held by the citizens of all other parties to the convention.

WIPO Copyright Treaty (WCT) (1996)

As to the rights granted to authors, apart from the rights recognized by the Berne Convention, the Treaty also grants: (i) the right of distribution; (ii) the right of rental; and (iii) a broader right of communication to the public.

The right of distribution is the right to authorize the making available to the public of the original and copies of a work through sale or other transfer of ownership.

The right of rental is the right to authorize commercial rental to the public of the original and copies of three kinds of works: (i) computer programs (except where the computer program itself is not the essential object of the rental); (ii) cinematographic works (but only in cases where commercial rental has led to widespread copying of such works, materially impairing the exclusive right of reproduction); and (iii) works embodied in phonograms as determined in the national law of Contracting Parties (except for countries which, since April 15, 1994, have had a system in force for equitable remuneration of such rental).

The right of communication to the public is the right to authorize any communication to the public, by wire or wireless means, including "the making available to the public of works in a way that the members of the public may access the work from a place and at a time individually chosen by them". The quoted expression covers, in particular, on-demand, interactive communication through the Internet.

How long does Copyright last?

- The duration of copyright begins from the moment the work is created or, under some national laws, when it is “fixed” in tangible form. Copyright protection continues, in general, until a certain time after the death of the author.
- Usually 50 -70 years after the death of the Author
- Works no longer subject to copyright protection enter the “Public Domain”

Creative Commons

Creative Commons licences provide a standard way for content creators to grant someone else permission to use their work. YouTube allows users to mark their videos with a Creative Commons CC BY licence.

If you've marked your video with a CC BY licence, you retain your copyright and other users get to reuse your work subject to the terms of the licence.

Creative Commons on YouTube

All users have the ability to mark uploaded videos with a Creative Commons licence.

The standard YouTube licence remains the default setting for all uploads. To review the terms of the standard YouTube licence, please refer to our Terms of Service.

Because Creative Commons licences are for your original content, you cannot mark your video with the Creative Commons licence if there is a Content ID claim on it.

By marking your original video with a Creative Commons licence, you are granting the entire YouTube community the right to re-use and edit that video.

What's eligible for a Creative Commons licence

Please understand that you may only mark your uploaded video with a Creative Commons licence if it consists entirely of content that can be licensed by you under the CC BY licence. Some examples of such licensable content are:

- Your originally created content
- Other videos marked with a CC BY licence
- Videos in the public domain

Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0)

This is a human-readable summary of (and not a substitute for) the license. Disclaimer.

You are free to:

Share — copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format

Adapt — remix, transform, and build upon the material for any purpose, even commercially.

The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the license terms.

Under the following terms:

Attribution — You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use.

No additional restrictions — You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits.

Notices:

You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation.

No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material.

Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Public License

By exercising the Licensed Rights (defined below), You accept and agree to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Public License ("Public License"). To the extent this Public License may be interpreted as a contract, You are granted the Licensed Rights in consideration of Your acceptance of these terms and conditions, and the Licensor grants You such rights in consideration of benefits the Licensor receives from making the Licensed Material available under these terms and conditions.

Section 1 – Definitions.

- a. Adapted Material means material subject to Copyright and Similar Rights that is derived from or based upon the Licensed Material and in which the Licensed Material is translated, altered, arranged, transformed, or otherwise modified in a manner requiring permission under the Copyright and Similar Rights held by the Licensor. For purposes of this Public License, where the Licensed Material is a musical work, performance, or sound recording, Adapted Material is always produced where the Licensed Material is synched in timed relation with a moving image.
- b. Adapter's License means the license You apply to Your Copyright and Similar Rights in Your contributions to Adapted Material in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Public License.
- c. Copyright and Similar Rights means copyright and/or similar rights closely related to copyright including, without limitation, performance, broadcast, sound recording, and Sui Generis Database Rights, without regard to how the rights are labeled or categorized. For purposes of this Public License, the rights specified in Section 2(b)(1)-(2) are not Copyright and Similar Rights.
- d. Effective Technological Measures means those measures that, in the absence of proper authority, may not be circumvented under laws fulfilling obligations under Article 11 of the WIPO Copyright Treaty adopted on December 20, 1996, and/or similar international agreements.
- e. Exceptions and Limitations means fair use, fair dealing, and/or any other exception or limitation to Copyright and Similar Rights that applies to Your use of the Licensed Material.
- f. Licensed Material means the artistic or literary work, database, or other material to which the Licensor applied this Public License.
- g. Licensed Rights means the rights granted to You subject to the terms and conditions of this Public License, which are limited to all Copyright and Similar Rights that apply to Your use of the Licensed Material and that the Licensor has authority to license.
- h. Licensor means the individual(s) or entity(ies) granting rights under this Public

How to give attribution

Here is a photo. Following it are some examples of how people might attribute it.

This is an ideal attribution

“Creative Commons 10th Birthday Celebration San Francisco” by tvol is licensed under CC BY 2.0

Because:

- Title? “Creative Commons 10th Birthday Celebration San Francisco”
- Author? “tvol” – linked to his profile page
- Source? “Creative Commons 10th Birthday Celebration San Francisco” – linked to original Flickr page
- License? “CC BY 2.0” – linked to license deed

How you attribute authors of the CC works will depend on whether you modify the content, if you create a derivative, if there are multiple sources, etc. Find out more about attribution on the CC Wiki.

<https://www.gnu.org/licenses/gpl-3.0.en.html>

The terms and conditions of the GPL must be made available to anybody receiving a copy of the work that has a GPL applied to it ("the licensee"). Any licensee who adheres to the terms and conditions is given permission to modify the work, as well as to copy and redistribute the work or any derivative version. The licensee is allowed to charge a fee for this service, or do this free of charge.

Traditional Knowledge and Intellectual Property

The current international system for protecting intellectual property was fashioned during the age of enlightenment and industrialization and developed subsequently in line with the perceived needs of technologically advanced societies. However, in recent years, indigenous peoples, local communities, and governments, mainly in developing countries, have demanded equivalent protection for traditional knowledge.

Getting Started for GLAMs

This page in a nutshell: Culture-sector professionals are encouraged to contribute to Wikipedia. Since it's not always easy to know how to contribute correctly, this page provides a centralised place to find relevant advice and to seek specific assistance.

Welcome to Wikipedia! If you are a museum curator, conservator-restorer, librarian, archivist, art historian, heritage interpreter, conservator, documentation manager, subject specialist, manager of an academic special collection (or similar profession) in a cultural institution and you want to participate in Wikipedia in your professional capacity, then this page is for you.

As someone professionally affiliated with an institution in the cultural sector (such as a museum, library, archive, public art gallery or similar) you are a custodian of our cultural heritage, which places you in a unique position to improve Wikipedia. Our goal is to provide access to knowledge freely (gratis and libre), and your expertise and institution's collection are welcome and necessary if we are to achieve that goal.

Causeway from Benbecula (foreground) to North Uist

The main settlement on the island is Lochmaddy, a fishing port and home to a museum, an arts centre and a camera obscura. Caledonian MacBrayne ferries sail from the village to Uig on Skye, as well as from the island of Berneray (which is connected to North Uist by road causeway), to Leverburgh in Harris. Lochmaddy also has Taigh Chearsabhagh — a museum and arts centre with a cafe, small shop and post office service. Nearby is the Uist Outdoor Centre.

The island's main villages are Sollas, Hosta, Tigharry, Hougharry, Paible, Grimsay and Cladach Kirkibost. Other settlements include Clachan, Carinish, Knockquien, Port nan Long, Greinetobht and Scolpaig, home to the nineteenth century Scolpaig Tower folly. Loch Portain is a small hamlet on the east coast — some 9 mi (14 km) from Lochmaddy, with sub areas of Cheesebay and Hoebeg.

According to the 2011 census North Uist had a population of 1,254.

Places of interest [edit]

North Uist has many prehistoric structures, including the Barpa Langass chambered cairn, the Pobull Fhinn stone circle, the Fir Bhreige standing stones, the islet of Eilean Dòmhnuille (which may be the earliest crannog site in Scotland),^[47] and the Baile Sear roundhouses, which were exposed by storms in January 2005.^[48]

The Vikings arrived in the Hebrides in AD 800 and developed large settlements.

The island is known for its bird life, including corncrakes, Arctic terns, gannets, corn buntings and Manx shearwaters. The RSPB has a nature reserve at Balranald.^[49]

Europe > Britain and Ireland > United Kingdom > Scotland > Hebrides > Outer Hebrides > North Uist

North Uist (Gaelic Ulhist A Tuathis) is an island in the Western Isles or Outer Hebrides of Scotland. It measures about 20 miles north-south, 25 miles east-west, and is separated from Benbecula to the south by a tidal ford, nowadays bridged by a causeway. It's thinly populated (1200 residents), low-lying and dotted by innumerable lochans or small lakes. Lochmaddy (Loch nam Madainn) on the east coast is the ferry port and what passes for the main village, but most settlement is scattered along the west coast, where the machair provides grazing for crofting.

North Uist, like the rest of the Highlands and Islands, was drained of its population both by voluntary emigration and by eviction to make way for sheep farming. In Sollas in 1849 there was a pitched battle between residents and evicting officers. Gaelic language and culture was historically persecuted heavily by the Scottish and British authorities in the Outer Hebrides. Since the formation of the Western Isles Council and greater European funding becoming available for indigenous minority languages it is considered to be on the rise. It's predominantly spoken here, and road signs are primarily in Gaelic. North Uist (like Lewis & Harris) is predominantly Protestant and the Sabbath is observed seriously here, unlike on the Catholic islands further south.

Get in [edit] [add listing]

By plane [edit] [add listing]

The airport for the Uists is Benbecula Airport (BEB ^{A7A}), a short drive south across the causeway. There are flights daily from Glasgow taking an hour, operated by Loganair. There are also flights (M-F) to Stornoway on Lewis: these connect to other destinations such as Edinburgh, but it's generally quicker to fly to Glasgow and take the train or other transport from there. The buses from North Uist to South Uist run past the airport on Benbecula.

By boat [edit] [add listing]

The main ferry port is Lochmaddy. This has ferries from Uig on Skye, with 1 or 2 per day taking 1 hour 45 minutes. (Nov-March ferries sail in only one direction on some days.) Return fares are £65 for a car, and £13 for adult passengers including the driver (valid for 2020). Buses from Glasgow Buchanan station connect with the ferries from Uig, which is effectively on the mainland since Skye is now linked by a bridge.

Another ferry route is from Mallaig on the mainland to Lochboisdale on South Uist. This sails daily April-Oct taking 3 hr 30 min, then you have a long drive north up the causeways. From Nov to March there's no sailing Tues or Thurs, and some ferries ply from Oban (a 5-hour crossing) instead of Mallaig.

North Uist is linked to by causeway to Berneray, from where a ferry crosses to Leverburgh on Harris. This runs 3 or 4 times per day, taking 1 hour. Return fares are £29 for a car and £7.60 per passenger including the driver (valid for 2020).

All these ferries are operated by Calmac.

For your own boat, Lochmaddy has a small marina which charges £2 per metre of boat length per night. There are also some mooring buoys at £10 per night.

By road [edit] [add listing]

The Uists have long been linked by causeways. The road across these is well clear of the sea and passable in all tides and weathers except for the worst Atlantic winds and waves. Northbound (as B93) the road crosses to Berneray, the ferry port for Leverburgh on Harris, and ends. Southbound (as A865) it crosses to Grimsay then Benbecula, with the airport. It continues down the long thin island of South Uist to Lochboisdale, which has ferries for Mallaig. Lastly it crosses onto Eriskay, which has ferries to Barra.

So all the Western Isles are well-linked, an important ingredient of community cohesion, and a car rental office in one part should be relaxed about you taking the car or even dropping it off on another island. Bus W10 / 16 / 17 runs M-Sa along the chain of islands, integrated with ferries as part of the Western Isles Overland Route - you can travel in a day between Stornoway on Lewis and Castlebay on Barra, though only one service per day plies the entire route. North Uist, being midway, has more connections, with four from Stornoway, six from Tarbert on Harris, six from Benbecula and South Uist, and three from Barra.

For car hire and other buses on North Uist, see "Get around".

Get around [edit] [add listing]

By road: The terrain is low-lying and easy for cycling, though the breeze is often stiff. All roads are single-track with passing places - drivers, please observe the traditional Highland etiquette. (Translation: always give way to mad fellows in white vans who are driving at Mach 2 to try to catch the ferry.) There's no car hire on North Uist itself, but those on Benbecula can meet the ferry with a car. Or try Aida's Taxis & Minibus, 1 Kersavagh, Lochmaddy HS6 SA4 +44 1876 500215.

Bus W18 loops five times clockwise and five times anticlockwise along the island's main road, from Lochmaddy and back. It doesn't cross to Berneray or Benbecula.

See [edit] [add listing]

There are many fine sandy beaches, mainly on the Western shore of North Uist. Traigh Linneigh is a safe shallow suitable for snorkelling. The coastline around Lochmaddy and the road to Loch Portain is remarkable for the number of little sea lochans. There are several prehistoric sites worth visiting, including and the island's lochans often contain interesting remains of duns, or fortified houses.

- Taigh Chearsabhagh (by Lochmaddy Hotel). M-Sa 10:00-16:00 (17:00 in summer). Excellent art centre with a museum and gallery, a cafe, post office and a shop. Also worth seeing are the outdoor sculptures (ask inside for the guide leaflet). [updated Jul 2018 | edit]
- Camera Obscura (Hut of the Shadows), 25 Spanish HS6 SAF (From Lochmaddy walk north past police station to the footbridge, turn right on other bank). Only worth coming on a sunny day. Enter the stone chamber and within is projected a view of Lochmaddy. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Dun An Siothr. Port nan Long HS3 5A2 (NF 907794 off the road to Berneray). 24 hours, but access is tidal. A stout iron Age brooch, built circa 100 BC to 100 AD, but in the medieval period converted to a rectangular hall. It's on a small island reached by causeway from a larger island, in turn reached by a choice of two causeways. The loch is tidal and the causeways flood at high tide. Free. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Scolpaig Tower. Scolpaig HS3 5DH (NF 731750 close to A865). 24 hours but access is tidal. An octagonal Georgian folly built circa 1830 (obliterating the broch there) on a small isle that can be reached at low tide. Otherwise you can see it fine from shore. It's derelict within. And they call this small tower a folly, when the council is planning to spend megabucks to turn Scolpaig into a spaceport?? Free. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Bairanald RSPB reserve (west tip of island). 24 hours. Where comrakes can be heard, if rarely seen. Allow 2 or 3 hours for the circular walk. Free, donations welcome. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Baleshare (Baire Sear) is a small tidal island off the southwest coast, connected by road to North Uist. It's a low-lying farmland with good beaches and a couple of B&Bs, and its machair and sandhill habitat make it a Site of Special Scientific Interest. The SSSI extends to the island of Kìrkibost, which may once have been joined to Baleshare before being severed by coastal erosion.
- Teampall Na Tìonaid (Church of the Holy Trinity). Carinish HS3 5EH (NF 816603 near causeway south to Benbecula). 24 hours. Ruins of a 13th-century church and seminary. The Battle of Carinish, fought nearby in 1601, may have been the last battle fought with bows and arrows in Britain. It was part of a feud between Clan Macleod of Dunvegan and Clan Macdonald of Sleat, the Macdonalds won the day and the overall conflict. Free. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Barpa Langass (NF 838657 on A687 by turnoff for Langass Lodge). 24 hours. A 5000-year-old burial chamber, partly collapsed but you can still enter. There may be two more chambers amidst the rubble. After seeing it, you can walk south past Langass Lodge to reach Pobull Finn. Free. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Pobull Fhinn (Finn's Tent) (NF 842650 by Langass Lodge). 24 hours. A stone circle, the best on the island, not least for its setting. It's more like an ellipse, and dates to around 2000 BC. After seeing it, you can walk past Langass Lodge then north to reach Barpa Langass. Free. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]

Do [edit] [add listing]

- Walk, cycle, visit the numerous artists studios, enjoy the unspoiled natural landscapes. North Uist is excellent for bird-watching and the coasts abound with sea-life.

Buy [edit] [add listing]

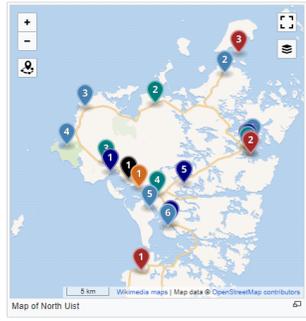

All the shops in North Uist are shut on a Sunday, but shops on Benbecula, South Uist and Eriskay are open on Sunday afternoons.

- Morrison Grocer. Lochmaddy HS6 5AA, ☎ +44 1876 500324. M-Sa 09:00-18:00. Sells newspapers once they arrive about noon, and groceries including Nisa products. Gulf petrol across the road. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- The Bank of Scotland is 100 yards north of Lochmaddy Hotel. It's open M & F 10:00-16:00 and has an ATM outside.
- Co-op Supermarket. Sollas HS6 5BS. M-Sa 07:00 - 22:00. Supermarket with 3 aisles. There are also Co-ops on Benbecula and South Uist which are open on Sunday. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Bayhead Shop. Bayhead HS6 5DS (on SW coast). M-Sa 08:00-18:00. Convenience store. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
- Hebridean Smokehouse. Clachan, Lochport HS6 5HD. M-F 08:00-17:30, Sa 09:00-17:00. For excellent smoked salmon and other smoky gifts. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]

Eat [edit] [add listing]

- For evening meals a hotel may be the best option. There is a decent cafe for snacks in Taigh Chearsabhagh in Lochmaddy.
- Kirkibost Cafe. Claddach Kirkibost HS6 5EP (on the A865 between Westford Inn and Hebridean Smokehouse). M-Sa 10:00-16:00. Good cafe for a lunchtime stopover or coffee and cakes. It also has a small shop selling postcards, knitwear and local books etc. It's in an old schoolhouse now used as a day nursery. [updated Jun 2019 | edit]
